

TESTERS TALK

“ Impressive combination of comfort, control, playability, and feel. The sharp edges add bite and spin. ”

5.0 male all-court player using Head Youtek Prestige Pro Midplus strung at 62 pounds LO (Head Sonic Pro 16)

“ This is a great option for poly players who want maximum spin. Comfort is above average for a poly. ”

3.5 male all-court player using Prince EX03 Blue strung at 57 pounds CP (Genesis Black Magic 16)

“ Flat serves have impressive power, and kickers have extra spin. Volleys feel crisp and precise. ”

4.5 male all-court player using Babolat Pure Storm GT strung at 58 pounds LO (Gamma Professional 16)

“ Despite being on the stiffer side, this string has great all-around playability. ”

4.5 male all-court player using Babolat Pure Drive GT strung at 56 pounds LO (Babolat RPM Blast 17)

“ Finesse players or recreational female players may not find this string very arm-friendly. However, it would likely work well for hard hitters in search of a longer lasting string. ”

4.0 female all-court player using Prince 03 Tour MP strung at 48 pounds CP (Tecnifibre NRG2 16)

“ This string plays great in the beginning. The spin-potential is very high, but once it loses tension the playability wanes a bit. ”

5.0 male all-court player using Babolat Aero Storm Tour GT strung at 54 pounds LO (Babolat RPM Team 16)

“ Impressive tension maintenance for a poly-based string. ”

5.0 male all-court player using Wilson Juice 100 strung at 55 pounds CP (Luxilon Savage/Wilson Sensation 17/17)
